

Introduction

SLP App provides software used by our customers to explore adventurous locations and trips around their location and area. If you have visited or made a purchase from our app, we collect but don't share that information with any data broker or any of our tourism service providers. We only use this information for the sole purpose of creating more relevant and eventful trips on our platform.

What information we collect about you and why

Please note that SLP App will never use your personal information to independently market or advertise to you, or share it with any external 3rd party entity for any reason whatsoever.

What we collect	How we use it
Information you provide about yourself like your name, email, address, email address, phone and number	<ul style="list-style-type: none">● We use this information for the sole purpose of creating a user's unique identity on our platform so that they can securely use our application.
Location information while using the application	<ul style="list-style-type: none">● To provide more location relevant trips and locations for the user so that they don't see any irrelevant locations and trips while using the application.

Your rights over your information

User's have complete rights over the information captured from the application and if they uninstall the application their information will not be utilized in any way or shared with any external resource in any manner whatsoever.